By L. & N. for Proposed Loop Around Earlington

OBJECTED TO BY MANY OF THE PROPERTY OWNERS

Who Claim It Is Not a Public Necessity.

The proposed loop between Mortons Gap and Madisonville that the L. & N. have been contemplating for some time has received a set back. There are several property owners who refused to sell and the courts were resorted to to condemn this property. Owners have filed a bill of exceptions to this proceeding. F. B. Arnold, Robt. Killick, W. H. Lynn and Mrs. J. G. B. Hall have asked the court not to grant the L. & N. Railroad this property, as they claim that it is not a public necessity or that it is necessary for said railroad company. Yost and Lafoon have been employed and will fight this case for the defendants. The following is the bill of exceptions taken:

Hopkins County Court. Louisville & Nashville Railways Co., Plaintiff, vs. Answer F. B. Arnold and E. R. Brackett, Defendants.

KILLED IN BRAWL AT FRANKFORT

Civilian Also Meets Death and Building Is Almost Shot to Pieces By Second Regiment.

TROOPS SEEKING TO AVENGE COMRADE'S DEATH.

Lezington Company is Protecting The Eighteen Prisoners From Mob Violence

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 4.—In one of the fiercest riots ever seen in this city between soldiers and civilians tonight Sergeant Ingram Tate of Somerset, Ky., member company G., K. S. G., and Jeff Cook, a civilian, were killed, while William Nickols, Joseph Conway and Alexander McNally were fatally shot.

The riot began in the tenderloin district in a saloon, following a brawl. Private William Phillips and C. E. Toadvine, members of Company G., who were standing near Tate when he was killed, identified Joseph Nickols as the man who fired the shot that killed Tate.

Nickols and eighteen others were placed under arrest. The building was almost shot to pieces by the troopers in their effort to gain an entrance apparently to lynch the men whom they thought had killed their comrade.

For more than an hour the eighteen men held forth against the soldiers. Finally, after a conference, Col. J. Embry Allen, commanding the Second Regiment, County Judge James H. Polsgrove and Chief of Police Maugan, accompanied by other soldiers, searched the building and in the top-story found the men huddled together.

They were all placed under arrest and then taken to the jail, which is being guarded tonight by soldiers to prevent the guilty people from being lynched.

Company C. of Lexington under command of Captain J. R. Sams, is guarding the Frankfort jail.

JESSIE JAMES' WIDOW A RELIGIOUS ENTHUSIAST

Has Been Taking an Active Part in The Evangelistic Camp-Meeting at Ocean Grove.

New York, Sept. 6.—Mrs. Jessie James, widow of the noted Missouri bandit, has been one of the most religious attendants at the Evangelistic camp-meeting at Ocean Grove, N. J. This fact became known when an ardent woman evangelistic dropped dead before the audience of 2,000 persons while leading the prayer.

Among those who went to the stricken women's assistance was Mrs. James, and then for the first time it became known that the aged but enthusiastic little woman who had worked so conscientiously for the success of the camp meeting during the last few years was the widow of the much-availed Jesse James.

Mrs. James has been living quietly at the religious resort and daily has led the large meetings in song and prayer. At the "love feast," which is a regular part of the daily program, Mrs. James has recited her personal testimony, telling of the great relief which her religious belief has brought her.

THE COAL MINES OF KENTUCKY.

Kentucky Digs Coal 80 Years; Just a Nibble.

EXHAUSTION SINCE 1829 BUT 2 PER CENT ORIGINAL SUPPLY.

Washington, Sept. 4.—The total production of coal in Kentucky in 1908, according to E. W. Parker of the United States Geological Survey, was 10,246,558 short tons, with a spot value of $10,817,162.

Bell, Johnson, Lee, Pike and Whitley counties showed substantial increases.

The total production in Eastern counties showed a decrease of 11,294 short tons, while in the Western counties the production fell off 495,277 short tons. The total decrease for the State amounted, therefore, to 506,571 short tons. The value decreased $1,087,876, or 9.54 per cent. The average price per ton declined from $1.05 to $1.01.

The year 1908 was the first in more than a decade in which the coal production of Kentucky was less than in the preceding year, the output having shown steady increase from 1896 to 1907. The production of 1908 exceeded that of 1906 by nearly 600,000 tons.

The coal mines of Kentucky during 1908 gave employment to 16,996 men, a slight increase over 1907. The average number of working days decreased, however, from 210 in 1907 to 186 in 1908.

The steady improvement in the productive capacity per employe for each day worked has been due in a large degree to the increased use of coal mining machinery, Kentucky being one of the most progressive States in this respect. In 1903 the number of mining machines in use was 308; in 1908 it was 759. The machine-mined product increased from 2,843,805 short tons in 1903 to 5,252,753 short tons in 1908, 51.27 per cent of the total output. Ohio is the only other coal producing state whose percentage of machine-mined coal to the total exceeds that of Kentucky.

From the best information obtainable it seems that the coal production of Kentucky from 1829 to 1835 ranged from 2000 to 6000 tons a year. The United States Census of 1840 gives the total production for the State at 23,527 short tons.

According to the estimates of M. R. Campbell of the Geological Survey, the original coal supply in the State when mining first began was 104,028,000,000 short tons, 67,787,000,000 tons in the Eastern Kentucky region and 36,241,000,000 tons in the coal areas of the Western part of the State. From total original supply there had been mined to the close of 1908, according to the best records obtainable, approximately 132,650,000 tons, which represents an exhaustion estimated at 199,000,000 tons, or 0.2 per cent of the original supply.

HAS LUTHER BURBANK BEATEN.

Harrison County Man Gets Grapes Peaches and Butterbeans From Same Tree.

Cynthiana, Ky., Sept. 6.—Mr. A. T. Fitzwaters has a tree in his back yard on Webster avenue that has any other tree beaten as far as variety of productiveness is concerned. It is a peach in more senses than one. The other day Mr. Fitzwaters climbed the tree to gather some grapes, and while up there he discovered a nice growth of butterbeans and quite a lot of fine peaches. Peaches, grapes and butterbeans all growing in the top of the same tree. Who can beat that? Mr. Fitzwaters is certainly entitled to a medal for that.

COOK NEVER REACHED POLE

Says Commander Peary in a Telegram to New York.

SAYS RIVAL WAS NOT OUT OF SIGHT OF LAND.

Opinion Based on Evidence of Eskimos and Cannot Be Taken as Authoritative.

Point Amour, Labrador (By Wireless to Halifax), Sept. 8.—The steamer Roosevelt is at Battle Harbor, en route for this place.

New York, Sept. 8.—The following dispatch was received here early today:

"Indian Harbor, Labrador (by wireless via Cape Ray, N. F., Sept. 7).—To Melville E. Stone, Associated Press, N. Y.:

"I have nailed the Stars and Stripes to the North Pole. This is authoritative and correct.

"Cook's story should not be taken too seriously. The two Eskimos who accompanied him say he went no distance North, and not out of sight of land. Other members of the tribe corroborate their story.

Philadelphia, Sept. 8.—"Too much importance should not be attached to the dispatch received from Commander Peary concerning Dr. Cook," said Henry G. Bryant, president of the Geographical Society of Philadelphia, today when shown the Peary telegram to the Associated Press.

Mr. Bryant, who received a message from Mr. Peary yesterday announcing to the Philadelphia society that he had discovered the pole, and who is a friend of both explorers, said that the testimony of Eskimos cannot be relied upon, and that Eskimos will say anything suggested to them. Continuing, he said:

"It is possible that Peary heard the claim of Dr. Cook's presence in the North and hunted up the Eskimos who accompanied the doctor, and he may have evidence which corroborates their statements. But how childlike and unreliable they are."

"I am still inclined to believe both Cook and Peary in their statements that they reached the pole. The records of each will be the real proof."

Admiral Melville, who has been skeptical from the first regarding the success of Dr. Cook, when told of Commander Peary's dispatch, said:

"All I can say is that I believe that any statement coming from Peary can be relied upon. I cannot pass judgment upon truth of the Eskimos. It is up to the man who saw and interviewed them, he is simply sending what he learned."

COAL COMPANIES

That Have recently been Organized in Kentucky.

The regular monthly meeting of the mine foreman will be held in the office of the St. Bernard Mining Co. Saturday night, at which meeting Mr. R. E. Whipple, chief engineer, will tell of his trip to Lexington where he attended the demonstration of mine rescue work. These mine foreman meet every second Saturday night in each month in the St. Bernard office and prove highly instructive and pleasant. Innovations in mining work are taken up and articles in mining journals are discussed pro and con. The demonstration in mine rescue work is carried on by the United State Government Officials and will prove a boon to the miners.

Kentucky coal operators will soon be enjoying big business again, notwithstanding the fact that this is the time of the year when the coal business is dull. The operators have made big contracts with the Illinois Central railroad, and it will require considerable time to fill them. In addition, heavy shipments of coal are to be made to Panama by Kentucky operators, and the outlook is bright for big business. The mines along the line of the Illinois Central railroad are now working less than half time, but the men will be given full time when work on the new contracts begins.

The quarterly meeting of the Western Kentucky Coal Operators' Association was held August 3d in the auditorium at the Seelbach at Louisville. I. P. Barnard is president, and D. Stewart Miller, secretary and commissioner. Secretary Miller stated that not much of interest came up at the meeting. He said that the business of the operators was moving along nicely, and that there was no friction or trouble of any kind.

The powder house of the mines of the Big Sandy Coal Company at Williamsport, Ky., was blown to pieces and completely demolished. The explosions were distinctly heard and felt as far as Paintsville. Latest reports indicate that no lives were lost. The injury wrought is the work of miscreants. This is the second explosion of this kind at the same place within the past six or eight months.

A stock company, representing $30,000 foreign capital, will open a coal mine in the gap of the mountain at Cumberland Gap, on the Kentucky side. An incline to bring the coal down the mountain to the railroad will be constructed. Mr. Ritchie, of the company, is arranging to begin work. The company is a strong one.

J. V. McEuen, manager of the Company store at St. Charles, has been sick for several days.

The Thomas coal mine in Union county, Ky., which closed sometime ago because of slack work, has resumed operations.

An Open Letter.

Earlington, Ky., Aug. 18, 1909.

Mr. Coal Miner,

Mr. Coal Operator,

Mr. Business Man,

Western Kentucky.

Gentlemen:-

Are you a subscriber to THE BEE?

Do YOU read THE BEE and advertise in THE BEE and give it the hearty and substantial support its devotion for twenty years to your interest deserves?

Now is a good time to take a fresh start. THE BEE is preparing to issue a splendid illustrated Coal edition, which will contain in picture and story a record of the present status and the future possibilities of the Western Kentucky Coal Field. Special original articles written by authorities on these subjects, including Mr. C. J. Norwood, Dean of the College of Mining Engineering, State University of Kentucky, and head of the Kentucky Geological survey, and Mr. John B. Atkinson, member of the Kentucky Conservation commission and the leading Kentucky authority on the subject of forestry, giving descriptive history of the coals of this field and their present development, and bearing on the very live question of forestry as related to the coal mining industry in Kentucky, all handsomely illustrated, will be published in this Special Edition. The work of soliciting is well under way and the leading coal companies in the territory so far worked have practically all made contracts for space, in which will be featured their individual operations.

Every coal operator in the Western Field should be represented in this important edition. Every important business related to the coal industry of Western Kentucky should be represented in its advertising columns. Every coal miner and every business man should be in position to possess a copy of this Special Coal Edition when issued. Every paid annual subscriber to THE EARLINGTON BEE will receive a copy of this Special Edition.

Send in your subscription, Mr. Miner. And you, Mr. Operator and Mr. Business Man, hold yourself in a friendly and receptive mood to make a contract for space when our solicitor calls to see you. Your indorsement and patronage will be appreciated.

Very truly yours,

THE EARLINGTON BEE.

The coal mine at De Koven, Ky., also started running again and several hundred men returned to work.

While it is true that times are not as good as they have been, but if a man will be on hand every shift and work, they can do very well. One miner during August average $4.00 every day he worked.

A deal was closed last week by which the Keokoe Consolidated Coke Co. came into possession of 11,000 acres of coal land in Lee county, Va., and Harlan county, Ky.

Coal business is picking up. The railroad yards last week were nearly full of loaded cars.

WEST KENTUCKY COAL COMPANY

Forced Into Involuntary Bankruptcy in U. S. Court.

Claim Company Permitted Judgment to be Taken Against Certain Valuable Property.

Owensboro, Sept. 8.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy has been filed in the United States court here against the West Kentucky Coal Mining Co., of Morgansfield, Ky., by three parties claiming to be creditors of the concern. They are Samuel K. Hughes, of Kyle, Ohio; Robert B. Edison, of Middletown, Ohio; and Anna O. Baker, of Indianapolis. The articles of incorporation of the mining company were filed under the laws of Oklahoma.

In petition filed it is claimed that the company is insolvent and that it is unable to pay its debts.

a creditor of the coal company to the amount of $1,500 and $1,741.80. These amounts were loaned on separate occasions. Edison loaned the company $88.75 and Hughes loaned it $250. They claim that none of these amounts have been paid.

It is alleged that the Kentucky Coal Company, by allowing H. J. Muelhauser to obtain a judgment of $8,500 in the Union Circuit Court and on which judgment execution was levied upon eighty-six different tracts of land under which the company had the coal and mineral rights committed an act of bankruptcy. The petitioners ask that the company be adjudged a bankrupt so that all creditors can share alike. The officials of the company have been summoned to appear before Judge Allen Dean and show cause why it should not be adjudged a bankrupt.

GIRL TO BE TRIED ON MURDER CHARGE

Young Woman and Married Man Alleged to Have Killed Her Father.

KIMBLE WAS SHOT WHILE ASLEEP IN HIS BED

Rockport, Ky., Sept. 4.—The trial of Clay Smith and Miss Bessie Kimble, who are in the Muhlenberg county jail at Greenville, where they were placed several months ago on the charge of murdering the Kimble girl's father, will be called in the Circuit Court at Greenville next week.

It is claimed that Smith, who is a married man, killed the girl's father to save his own life, as he had betrayed the girl, it is said, and knew that when the aged Kentuckian found out his atrocious deed his life would pay the penalty.

Kimble was shot while asleep in his bed on the night of May 16. All efforts to discover the murderer proved fruitless until his daughter, Bessie, aged sixteen, was seen by an eight-year-old child to throw a bundle of letters into a pond near her home.

On their recovery they were found, it is declared, to contain letters written by Smith to the girl, implicating himself.

They are said to have demanded that the girl kill her father to prevent his killing Smith when he learned of the relation between the married man and the young girl. The girl refused to kill her father, however, and the police declare that the other letters show that Smith said that he would have to do it himself.

A few days before Kimble, who was one of the best known farmers in Muhlenburg county, met his tragic death he was mysteriously poisoned, and was under the care of a physician when killed.

At the time of the murder feeling ran so high that Smith had to be hustled away to prevent a lynching. The feeling is still very strong against him.

Smith's wife is the Kimble girl's sister.

PROMINENT DISCOVERIES.

Benjamin Franklin, after overcoming privations, discovered the conductive principle of electricity in 1752, and thereby made possible all future progress in electrical transmission and power.

Cyrus West Field, after succumbing in business, sank a fortune in trying to lay the first Atlantic cable, then succeeded August 16, 1858.

Robert Fulton built the first practical steamboat, the Clermont, which sailed up the Hudson river in 1807.

Henry M. Stanley, intrepid explorer, traversed Africa and rescued the Livingstone expedition in 1871-1872.

Louis Agassiz, financier and explorer, added new collections and discoveries to science after explorations in the Antarctic in 1830.

Thomas Alva Edison, beginning as a train butcher, invented the electric light and many other revolutionary devices.

Orville and Wilbur Wright, brothers, constructed and operated the first practical heavier-than-air flying machine which was the model for all their rivals in aviation.

John Ericsson, after many marine inventions, designed and built the Monitor in 1862. It was the first gun turret.

Maxim Maxim, inventor of machine gun and other explosives, invented in 1881 the first machine gun and other automatic mechanism.

Alex. Graham Bell, in 1876, invented the telephone and other electrical devices which are now used in every part of the civilized world.

Luther Burbank made botanical researches in California resulting in the development of new plant species.

Samuel F. B. Morse invented the electric telegraph in 1844 and later developed and enlarged the scope of the system of telegraphy.

Eli Whitney invented in 1795 the cotton gin, decreasing the labor and making possible the present cotton-growing and spinning industry in this country.

Dr. Frederick A. Cook discovered the North Pole April 21, 1908.

Dr. Cook's Great Triumph.

THE BEE knows that every American is proud of the achievement of Dr. Cook, of Brooklyn, N. Y., in being the first discoverer of the North Pole.

Many others have made the venture, but either died or failed in the attempt. It has been an open contest for centuries, and citizens of various nationalities have struggled to reach the goal.

Dr. F. A. Cook, an humble citizen, has by his success risen high above his competitors and fellows in his discovery. Energy, perseverance and endurance were his good qualities, qualifications which always win in a fight.

Dr. Cook's name will now be canonized and go down to nations unborn and be next to that of Christopher Columbus as a discoverer.

Columbus, too, was an adventurer, little known in good condition. One of Ayer's Pills at bed time causes the bowels in good condition. One at bed time causes the bowels in good condition. One at bed time causes the bowels in good condition.

LETTER HITS AT PRINCE

Mysterious Writer Says Bad Things About Miss Anita Stewart's Finance.

Dingwall, Rosshire, Scotland, Sept. 4.—Prince Miguel of Braganza and his fiancée, Miss Anita Stewart of New York, who are here preparing for their wedding at Tulloch castle September 15, have been much disturbed in the last few days by the receipt of an anonymous letter reflecting on the character of the prince.

The same writer has addressed both of the young people with the view, apparently, of making some discovery to one of them and causing trouble in the eyes of their friends. The prince purport to give reasons why the prince is a bad character.

There is believed to be no foundation for the letter, the prince declaring all his statements absolutely false.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—One hundred and twenty Russian fugitives were deported Saturday from New York, Alaska, to Siberia. ## THEORIST IN DEEP TROUBLE.

He Cannot Understand Why Things Disappear When They Are Not In Constant Use.

"Did you ever notice," asked the theorist, "how a thing will disappear if you don't use it for awhile? Leave it around your room for awhile and it will vanish."

"Easy enough," said the practical man. "The servant sweeps it into the wastebasket."

"Not at all," said the theorist. "Try the experiment of having two of anything and use one, and the other will disappear. I mislaid my pocketknife a few weeks ago and bought another. I found my old one that night and carried both in my pocket for awhile, always using the new one. In the course of time the old one vanished—vanished magically from my pocket."

"You dropped it," said the practical man.

"Why didn't I drop the new one?" asked the theorist. "And why is it always that way? I had a new key made for my office desk, under the impression that there was something wrong with the old one. There wasn't. I carried both of them on a ring. After awhile the old one, which I didn't use, vanished off the key ring."

"At home I use an eyeglass for reading at night. I had two, one light and one heavy. Lately I have been using the heavy one alone, keeping the light one in a drawer. To-day I opened the drawer and found the light one gone. Do you think the maid opened the drawer so as to find something to sequester for the wastebasket?"

"Bosh!" said the practical man. "Try it," said the theorist.

Enjoy Yourself

How to Live in Hot Season

By THURDE RAYLE BRUCE

"LL COME to see you when it gets cool," a girl said on one of the recent sizzling hot days. "But I won't come to see you while it is so hot."

Sensible girl. She was one of the clan who find living a delight and not a strenuous, nerve-racking proceeding.

So many of us make life a wearing ordeal. Circumstances over which we have no control may make it tragic—that is another story. But we let a hundred and one little things which we can control make life almost a nightmare.

Where is the housewife who doesn't dread the invasion of a horde of visitors in hot weather? Where is the woman, if she be a conscientious guest, who doesn't dread visiting in exhausting, humid days?

But we all do it. Yet there is delicious spring weather and snappy autumn weeks when a visit is a delight.

Take the matter of shopping. Do we do that most expeditiously and with the least fatigue? In the course of a year we buy about so many things. We need so many dresses, coats, hats, shoes, gloves and other articles—that is, really need them. If we shopped sensibly and stores were conducted to supply those needs sensibly two or three shopping expeditions a year would be all that was necessary.

But what do we do? We chase down town two or three times a week, on hot days or rainy days. We struggle home on crowded trolleys. We buy a great many more things than we need. We waste almost as much time and energy in exchanging them as we do in buying.

And so it goes. We gather unto ourselves worry and work and the enjoyment of life slips away and becomes a thing almost unknown. Why not drop some of these burdens and get more real pleasure and comfort out of life? Why not be like the cheery woman who said so positively, "I will not visit in hot weather?"

Take stock of some of the useless burdens you are carrying and drop them by the wayside. You'll proceed with a lighter step and a lighter heart. You'll be happier yourself and make those around you happier and perhaps by your example hearten some other overburdened sister to cast a few of hers overboard.

Married Women Successful In Office

By Mrs. Mary Ellen Foster

Most women consider office work after marriage an unhappy lot—an insufferable bugbear that reflects on the husband's character and responsibility. I was an exception and to this day I'm right glad I was.

When my husband asked me to marry him I was 25. I had a choice position with a law firm and a good bank account, known only to myself.

We settled down into a pretty furnished flat after a short honeymoon and my knight expected me to do nothing but read Dickens and make sofa pillows. That was all nice and pleasant, but I was too ambitious and solicitous for our future welfare to remain "the weaker sex."

I knew that my husband had an intention of starting a printing shop of his own, but there was still a shortage in the market. I also knew I could help him eliminate obstacles, financial and otherwise, in a short time if I might return to work that meant $16 a week. It seemed a pity to waste time making brown work and fancy heads when there was so much to achieve.

This question occasioned our first difference, but I gained the day by showing him that things have changed; that grandmother helped grandfather get along by weaving his clothes, dyeing and spinning wool for his stockings, etc., all of which I now had no chance to do, and that it seemed legitimate to me to return to the office if my activities or assistance in carving the family fortunes were of any account.

The following year when my husband renewed his endeavors to start a business of his own I gave him a pleasant surprise by showing him that I had $1,000 to invest in it, all of which I had saved out of my salary in six years.

I know this little sacrifice has drawn us closer together. I understood exactly what luxuries he could afford to give me and I did not plague him for more, but within the last three years his business has prospered so remarkably that he has now allowed what to me is the greatest luxury of all—a trip to Europe.

I am proud of being a factor in my husband's success.

Begin Early to Keep Young

By JOHN DREW

always hunted and been much in the out of doors. Those are the things that count—but you must begin early in life.

The fact that I was sent to a military academy for my schooling helped immensely, too. I was taught to stand straight and was put through the most rigorous course of exercise daily. It was the kind of school in which as much attention is paid to the proper development of the boy's physical condition as to his mental growth. That is the right kind of a school, the only sane, sensible kind for a growing boy.

As a boy I enjoyed hugely all of this exercise, without knowing how well it was going to stand me in stead in later years. Of course I can't take any chances now of accident and so have to forego steeplechasing and hunting. But I still enjoy the out of doors and still get my share of exercise.

Asher, of Wasito. The early development of both the coal and timber resources of the land in question is contemplated.

To enable it to reach new mines to be opened by the Edgemont Coal Co., the Louisville & Nashville R. R. Co. has acquired a portion of the Straight Creek & C. Co.'s railroad in Bell county, Ky. It will be necessary to build a short extension to the present line in order to reach the property that is to be developed.

It is now but a question of a few months until Frankfort and Louisville will be connected by an interurban line. With the Louisville and Eastern road building on beyond LaGrange to Shelbyville it is but a question of time necessary in the construction work until it is extended on to Frankfort and Shelbyville.

Articles of incorporation have been filed at Dixon by the Kentucky Electric Railway Company, which propose to build an electric railroad from Dawson Springs to Providence, a distance of about twenty miles. The incorporators are B. H. Roney, J. T. Edwards and M. E. Edwards.

It is reported that E. R. Blackburn, cashier of the Union Bank & Trust Company, who is actively interested in the proposed interurban electric railway system connecting Louisville, Cincinnati, Lexington, Maysville and intermediate cities, has announced that all the money needed to construct the system has been guaranteed by Louisville, Cincinnati and Eastern capitalists.

Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Francis Rutherford, Earlington, Ky., says: "For over three years I suffered from weak kidneys and dull pains through the small of my back and whenever I did any work that required lifting, sharp, shooting twinges passed through my loins. My back ached at night and when I arose in the morning, I was very stiff and lame. I generally felt dull and languid and was also bothered by a feeling of nervousness. Headaches were frequent and I had dizzy spells, during which there was a blurring of my eyesight. The kidney secretions were very unnatural and passed too frequently. Whenever I caught cold it settled on my kidneys and at such times my suffering was aggravated. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box and received relief in a short time after commencing their use. I continued taking them until I had finished the contents of two boxes at which time I was completely cured."

WILL SHELTER TAFT

Los Angeles Residence to Be "White House" for a Time.

Chief Executive Will Be the Guest of His Sister, Mrs. Edwards, and Numerous Family Heirlooms Will Surround Him.

Los Angeles, Cal.—The pretty, vine-covered home of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Edwards on the West Adams street heights will become the nation's "White House" for the brief time that President Taft visits in Los Angeles. Mrs. Edwards is the only sister of the president, and with her he is to make his personal and official home while he is in Los Angeles in the autumn.

Beneath the same roof lived the mother of the president for the last few months of her life. And within the various chambers President Taft will find himself surrounded with many familiar objects—the family heirlooms.

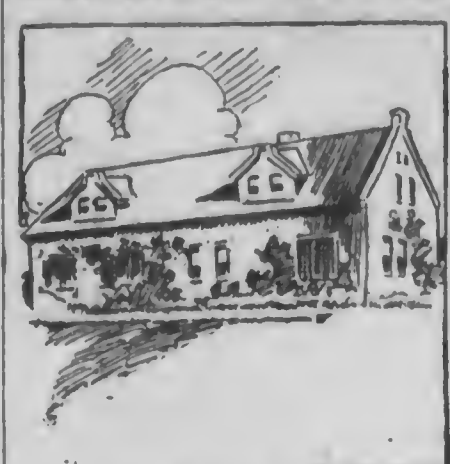

The family treasures, of all the pleasures awaiting the president, will perhaps most greatly interest him.

There is an old-fashioned clock in the old-fashioned living-room. That clock was ticking the seconds away when the present chief executive of the nation first saw the light of day. The timepiece belonged to the grand mother of the president, who, in turn, presented it to her daughter. And, just as it kept time and struck the hours in the childhood of Mrs. Edwards and her brothers, it continues to serve in the same capacity.

In another place is an old-fashioned warming pan, besides andirons and cedar chests and colonial furniture, all of which have been a part, as it were, of the youth of the highest official in the land.

The home is an expression of the cultured and artistic taste of Mrs.

The Edwards Home. Edwards. Outside it is picturesque, with its sweeping lawns, winding walks and flowers. Inside, one might imagine oneself in a stately colonial home. Mrs. Edwards has a fancy for antiques, and what has been lacking in her inheritance of almost priceless pieces has been supplied from the art centers of Europe and America.

Still, a simplicity prevails, notwithstanding the Chippendale and old mahoganies and brasses and antiques, with hand-crochet work, some of them still doing service after 75 years' existence. The bedroom which the president will occupy is in chintz and hand-made old-fashioned curtains, with a four-post bed, all of them heirlooms.

"I am hoping," said Mrs. Edwards, "that my sister-in-law will be sufficiently restored to health to accompany my brother on his visit to the coast. You see, it will be so much pleasanter for William, for then it will mean a pleasure trip for him, and, of course, we should enjoy having Mrs. Taft with us. She is very fond of southern California, having spent a winter in Santa Barbara once, and she has longed ever since to return here."

TIRED OF CELL, HE BUYS HIS LIBERTY

SALOON KEEPER, FINED $500 FOR CAUSING FALSE ARREST, PAYS COMPLAINANT.

CHICKENS CAUSED THE TROUBLE

Martin Juracek, Who Accused Francesca Nasz of Stealing Fowl, Failing to Pay Judgment He Is Put in Jail.

East St. Louis, Ill., Sept. 4.—Martin Juracek, saloon keeper, 401 Exchange avenue does not think it is "soft" to stay in jail, even if his bond is paid. He was locked up last Monday at the instance of Mrs. Francesca Nasz, a neighbor, because he would not pay a judgment of $533 damages she obtained against him. But liberty was dear, even at so high a price, and Juracek decided Friday to pay. He is back behind his bar, drawing beer in an effort to recoup and recover from the crime put in his fortunes by Mrs. Nasz.

A year ago they were neighbors, and Juracek missed several fancy chickens. Some one reported that Francesca was a favorite on the Nasz table, and Mrs. Nasz was arrested on a charge of chasing the Juracek fowls. She easily disproved the charge and decided the humiliation of having to ride in a patrol, arrest, and trial was grounds for damages.

Given judgment of $533. The judge in the city court, agreed with her, and gave her judgment for over $500. Collecting it proved harder than winning the suit. And, just to get Juracek's money about the debt, she changed his arrest. Then she discovered that she would have to pay his bond bill while he was in jail. That amounted to $5 per week.

She longer she kept him in jail the smaller the debt grew for Jerry Way Juracek spent behind the bars he was credited with $1.50. Summed up, Mrs. Nasz's judgment was not being satisfied; she was out $5 a week and Juracek's debt was diminishing.

Wearies of Confinement. The first Mrs. Nasz suspected revenge was sweet, but not profitable. But Thursday Juracek wearied of confinement, and offered to alibi. A settlement was reached, its terms are secret, but it is said Juracek agreed to pay most of Mrs. Nasz's claim.

AVIATOR FALLS INTO LAKE

C. F. Willard, in Trying to Cross Ontario, Meets With Mishap Near Shore.

Toronto, Sept. 4.—C. Foster Willard in the aeroplane Golden Flyer made his first attempt to cross Lake Ontario but a sudden increase of wind and trouble with the ballast made the machine dip its bows at a terrific pitch and he fell to the water when about three-quarters of a mile from the shore. He was picked up by the launch which had been waiting to see the flight.

The aeroplane left the land about 7:15 o'clock and appeared to be under control. It went at a terrific pace, at a height of about 30 or 40 feet.

Another attempt to cross the lake will be made as soon as the repairs are completed.

TORSO OF GIRL FOUND IN RIVER

HEAD, ARMS AND LEGS MISSING FROM TRUNK DISCOVERED NEAR DETROIT.

MYSTERY Baffles the Police

Officers Spend Day Dragging Creek for Clue—Medical Men Surprised at Skill With Which Limbs Were Cut Off.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 7.—All day long Sheriff Gaston and his deputies have dragged Ecorse creek and questioning residents in the down-river district in hopes of finding some clue as to the identity of the decapitated, armless and legless body of the young woman found in the stream, but their efforts have as yet been in vain. It is thought that the torso, which was securely sewn in a gunny sack may have been thrown in the water at Detroit and carried down the river by the current until it reached the creek, which is only a few miles below the city. Consequently officers are securing the city docks in hopes of finding some tangible evidence.

The one clue in the possession of the police has been shattered by the finding of Hattie Hochstadt. She had been missing from her home for a week and circumstances led the officials to believe that she might have been the victim. The authorities are now endeavoring to find some trace of Mrs. Jessie Weber, who was reported missing from her home on Second street since Aug. 12. Mrs. Weber came here during the summer from Minneapolis and her husband since has been in the city searching for her.

The county physicians feel certain that the body had only been in the water a few days and the age of the victim is estimated to be between 20 and 22 years. When shown the trunk the medical men were visibly surprised at the skill with which the limbs and head were cut off.

The flesh is little mangled and the cutting shows the work of an expert. After examining the body both physicians gave it as their opinion that the torso is that of a married woman whose height was about 5 feet 6 inches.

The officers learned Monday afternoon that a similar sack was found containing a dead dog in Ecorse creek a few days ago. The dog was sewn in the sack and weighted down in the same manner as the woman's body. The officials believe both sacks were thrown in the creek by the same person and that the dog was used for experimental purposes.

A coroner's jury has been sworn in and the inquest will be held Friday night.

Passengers in Terror as Sloop Pounded in Breakers—Drenching Is Only Harm.

Atlantic City, U. J., Sept. 6.—Driven on the bar by the swift current which sweeps through the inlet, forty passengers aboard the Chalfonte, a sloop, prayed and wept in their terror of the craft sinking under them before help from shore, a mile distant, could reach them.

The breakers swept the craft repeatedly from stem to stern, causing her to settle and keel over. Men, women and children were drenched with every onslaught of the waves. A horn sounded by the captain drew the attention of the government life saving crew, which fired a blue light, a signal that caused a wave of joy among the passengers when it was interpreted as meaning that they were on their way to rescue them.

The men, when they saw help was near, became calm and helped the women and children over the side into the lifeboat.

BUST OF SHAKESPEARE SOLD

Wooden Likeness of the Bard of Avon Brings $2,025 at Recent Auction in London.

London.—There is an illustration of the bust of Shakespeare which was sold at Sotheby's recently for $2,025. Between the time of the discovery of the bust and its sale many persons had gained the idea that it was to go for much more money than it brought. The bust, however, has no great artistic value, according to what has been said of it in the English prints; it is unflattering to Shakespeare and its chief value is as a relic only. Its authenticity, however, appears to be quite fully attested. It is believed to be the work of Gerard Johnson, who erected in the church at Stratford on Avon the portrait bust to which this bears a strong resemblance. It resembles markedly also the Droschout print which was used as frontispiece to the First Folio edition of Shakespeare's works.

Only Known Contemporary Likeness of Shakespeare.

It is put down as work of the late sixteenth or early seventeenth century, and it served as the model on which Kent and Scheemakers designed their Shakespeare monument for the Poets' Corner of Westminster abbey. The statuette is about fifteen inches high and in good preservation except for some wormholes and a crack in the base.

The history of it as given dates from the life of the poet's sister, Joan Shakespeare, and it remained in the family until Thomas Hart, the fifth in direct line of descent from Joan, directed a relative, Thomas Hornby, to rent Shakespeare's birthplace and exhibit this bust and other relics there. There the bust continued on exhibition until 1820, when Mr. Hornby's widow left the house owing to an increase in the rent. She took it to a house across the way, where it was shown for some time longer.

In 1830 the executors of Thomas Hornby sold it to Miss Craven of Bath, an eccentric collector, who died not long ago at an advanced age. It was found on her death in a store cupboard, wrapped in paper, where it had lain a long time forgotten. It passed on her death to the ownership of Hugh Baker, who caused its sale at Sotheby's. It is carved of mulberry wood.

HEROIC SAILOR SAVED

Sprang Overboard to Get Help for Shipwrecked Mates and Nearly Perished.

New York.—After 26 hours of wild battling with the sea, alone on a drifting, wave-swept raft, Madden Persson, the sailor of the Arlington, which went ashore in the storm off Long Beach, has been saved. He was landed in this city by the schooner Irene and Mary, which docked at the foot of Beekman street.

Persson is the sailor who sprang overboard in an attempt to reach shore to get help for his shipmates and who was borne to sea on a hatch cover and had been given up as lost. Drifting ten miles off Atlantic Hills he saw the sails of the Irene and Mary and managed to signal the ship. A boat was lowered and he was rescued.

Although Persson was attired only in a pair of canvas pants and an undershirt, he was none the worse for his long exposure to the gale and cold when they got him aboard the Irene and Mary. He drank six cups of coffee, ate four meals in one, borrowed a clay pipe, smoked it and then fell asleep.

Locks Fail to Keep Death Out.

Lafayette, Pa.—Following the death of her aged husband, John Gardner, a civil war veteran, Mrs. Gardner has lost her reason, refusing to admit anyone to her home near Lagorier, and having interfered with the funeral and burial. She was alone with her husband when he died, and possessed with an idea that she could protect herself from the entrance of death, she barricaded the house. She fastened the windows, drew down the shades, bolted and locked the doors and piled furniture against them and then lighted lamps.

The instrument was played at the ball given in Boston at the celebration which followed the evacuation of that city by the British, and later came into the possession of an itinerant peddler named Bell. The latter roamed over the country-side and made a good living by fiddling at frolics, and no dance of any magnitude was complete without "Bell and the fiddle." He sold the violin to Mr. Small in Portland, Me.

CHUM IDENTIFIES TORSO OF GIRL

DISMEMBERED MURDER VICTIM WAS MABEL MILLMAN OF ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN.

HEAD AND LIMBS ARE FOUND

Woman Had Been Missing for More Than a Week—Identification Made
By Girl Friend Who Recognized Barrette.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 8.—Miss Mabel Millman of 210 North Ashley street, Ann Arbor, was the victim of the brutal crime which came to light with the finding of a gunny sack containing a human torso in Ecorse Creek.

The identification was made in the county morgue by Miss Martha Henning, following the discovery of a second sack containing the victim's head, arms and legs in Ecorse Creek under the bridge.

Miss Millman had been missing since a week ago Friday. She came from Ann Arbor four weeks ago to visit Miss Henning, and on the day of her disappearance told the latter she was going to visit another friend, Mrs. E. Osborne. That morning Miss Henning left home while Miss Millman was still in bed. That was the last seen of her alive. She never reached Mrs. Osborne's.

Head Hacked or Torn Off.
The head apparently had been hacked or torn from the trunk. The eyes were bulging far out of their sockets, and this fact, together with marks about the throat lead the county physicians to believe she had been choked to death.

The arms apparently had been torn out of their sockets, the legs had been cleanly sawed off just below the knees. The woman's hair had been removed from the scalp, only a few strands remaining on the head.

Marshal George I. Perry and Oliver Sansouci, both of Ecorse, who had been engaged by Sheriff Gaston to drag the creek found the sack under the bridge.

Identified by Her Barrette.
When shown a barrette worn by the dead girl, Miss Henning identified it at once. Though already suffering from the shock, Miss Henning went to look at the head. She stood gamely by while the ghastly mass, bearing little resemblance to a human head, was exhibited, and finally made the identification by means of the teeth. Then came the reaction and she burst into sobs. She would have fallen had not strong arms supported her.

"Yes, that's Mabel," she cried. "How did she ever get there?"
Sheriff Kelsey is here from Ann Arbor and is assisting Sheriff Gaston in the investigation.

Survivors of the Civil War Hold Their Annual Reunion on State Fair

Minneapolis, Sept. 8.—The annual reunion of the association of the Minnesota Civil War Veterans was held to-day on the state fair grounds, where the fair is in progress. The old soldiers met at the Administration building at two o'clock and marched through the grounds, led by a band and the Morgan G. A. R. drum corps of Minneapolis. After the regular business of the meeting they were addressed by B. F. Nelson, president of the Minnesota State Agricultural society.

Strikers Win Victory.
Pittsburg, Sept. 8.—Peace and quiet will again reign in McKees Rocks. The costly strike which has been in progress fifty-three days at the Pressed Steel Car company is over. The workmen, numbering over 5,000 have won a complete victory.

Another Flood at Tulsa.
Mexico City, Sept. 8.—The town of Tulsa, in the state of Tamaulipas, was visited by another flood, houses being carried away and rich plantations destroyed. Misery prevails in the district. Gen. Trevino places the deaths for the state of Nuevo Leon officially at 1,500. A number of towns on the Rio Grande have not yet been heard from.

More Troops to Morocco.
Madrid, Sept. 8.—The twelfth division of the Spanish army, consisting of 11,000 men, under command of Gen. Sotomayor, has been ordered to Melilla, Morocco, to take part in the campaign against the Moors. Premier Maura said that another division might be mobilized immediately.

U. S. Attorney Embrey Resigns.

Curtiss Arrives at Brescia.
Brescia, Italy, Sept. 8.—Glenn H. Curtiss, the American aviator who recently won the International cup at Rheims, arrived here from Paris to take part in the forthcoming aeroplane race.

NEW WORK FOR MEN

Taxi-Governess and Doorman—Nurse Appear in Gotham.

They Keep Watch Over the Children Who Dwell in Big Hotels and Apartment Houses, and Earn Considerable Money.

New York.—Here are the newest servitors up to date—the taxi-governess and the doorman-nurse!

It isn't a joke, either. Of course these new-fangled children's attendants don't wear indicators that run up a bill while you wait, but they do look out for the youngsters whose fortune it is to dwell in the big hotels and apartment houses uptown.

In these fastidious days the taxi starter and the doorman are features in front of every well-regulated hotel and apartment that wants to be strictly to the manner born. Now, they aren't opening cab doors all the time, and the parents who dwell upstairs know that. And the youngsters must play. But the great caravansaries have no playgrounds for the children.
Perforce they must go to the street.

That's where the taxi-starter and the doorman comes in. It's their job to see that the kiddies come to no harm. Of course, many of them have their governesses or their nurses, but others have not. Consequently, the outside force of the house is pressed into service. They are asked to watch the children even to amuse them.

Some of the taxicab starters and doormen have stated hours for each child or group of children. They will begin immediately after breakfast with two or three, and join in their little games and romping until the youngsters tire and turn their attention to something else. Then the men call up another mother and take her children for an hour. At some of the apartment houses uptown, where there are taxicab stands or doormen, the men are busy almost continuously until the children go to bed.

They have to keep an eye on the door, but that doesn't prevent them from running up and down the sidewalk, playing tag and ball, or indulging in any of the other children's pastimes. Incidentally they make a neat little sum in tips every week from the doting parents.

At one big apartment hotel on upper Broadway the taxicab starter and

One of the "Nurses" and His Charge.

doorman look after no less than 25
children every day in this manner.

The little ones whose families are spending the summer in town have regular hours when they can romp in front of the hotel with their big "nurses." The parents have implicit confidence in their guardians, and leave the little fellows to be amused for two or three hours at a time.
Sometimes as many as eight or ten will be playing in front of the hotel at once under the watchful eyes of the doorman and taxicab starter. Two of the kiddies may have their dogs, others will be playing tag or marbles,
while the little girls are skipping rope or playing with their dollies.

For the children of the rich who have to spend their summer, or even part of it, in the city, the taxicab starters and doormen are a boon.
Their parents like it, for they have a real "nurse" on the co-operative plan.
And the hotels can't complain, because it means satisfied patrons at a season when patrons are hard to get.

Baby Is Born with Wings.

Roanoke, Va.—A report comes from Montgomery county that a woman there has given birth to a child with wings instead of arms. A Roanoke man who recently returned from a trip to that country in a wagon tells the story. A young woman asked for a ride and was accommodated. She related having just left a home where a baby was born with feathered wings. The young woman declared that she knew the truth of the statement, having seen the child. The baby, she said, made a noise like a chicken.

Finds Mastodon's Teeth on Farm.

Mount Holly, N. J.—Finding 22 large teeth and making enough excavations to satisfy him that the skull and other parts were there, Jonathan H. Kelsey, a Pemberton lawyer, believes that he has discovered the remains of an extinct mastodon buried on the Walter Antrim farm in Springfield township. In reaching this conclusion he has notified the New Jersey State Geological society that all rights to make further excavations have been reserved for it.

ROOSEVELT TO DIG CANAL

FORMER PRESIDENT TO TAKE CHARGE IN PANAMA.

Has Made Study of Conditions in Canal Zone and Is Well Equipped for Work.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 8.—That ex-
President Roosevelt is to take charge of the work on the Panama canal
when he returns from Africa is the report in official circles in Panama, was the statement of T. W. Harrison, of Columbus, O., attached to the engineering department at Panama, and who arrived here Monday night from the canal zone.

"There is no dissatisfaction with the way in which the canal is being digged," said Harrison, "but the report has come from authentic circles that President Taft has already arranged with Roosevelt to go to the isthmus at the beginning of the year and remain there until the waterway has been completed.

"Roosevelt is very popular on the isthmus and would be given a hearty welcome. Recently the medals which he recommended for good service were distributed. He has made a deep study of the canal and is well equipped to take up the work."

BILL FOR DEEP WATERWAY

Senator Lorimer Declaring Congress Will Act Arouses Lake-to-the-Gulf Advocates.

St. Louis, Sept. 8.—United States
Senator William Lorimer of Illinois,
"father" of the deep-waterway movement, in declaring in St. Louis his belief that congress in December would appropriate a sufficient fund to begin deepening the Mississippi river from the lakes to the gulf, has aroused a more confident feeling of success among the local officials of the Lake-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterways association.

The plan, according to Senator Lorimer, is to have the waterway improvement carried on under a continuous contract system, which will assure success of the fourteen-foot channel.

Senator Lorimer on his way to Little Rock, Ark., on private business, arrived in St. Louis Monday night and held a conference at the Terminal hotel with W. F. Saunders, secretary of the Lake-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterways association, and O. L. Whitelaw.
He was met in the Union Station and dined in the Terminal hotel, spending only a short time here.

A THREAT TO CHURCHMEN

Chicago's States Attorney to Prosecute Brotherhood Club Members in Gingles Case.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Like the omnipresent issue of "who struck Billy Patterson?" the case of Ella Gingles will, seems, not down. States Attorney Wayman declared that if the members of the Brotherhood Club of the Garfield Boulevard Methodist church persisted in their intention to send letters to members of the September grand jury in reference to the white slavery charges made by the Gingles girl, he will prosecute the senders for contempt of court.

The purpose of the club, it is said, was to inform every member of the grand jury of his right, independent of the state's attorney and to inform him how the members of the last grand jury were "whipped around to Wayman's way of thinking in the case."

Harriman Suffers Relapse.

Arden, N. Y., Sept. 8.—All the alarming rumors regarding the condition of Edward H. Harriman have been revived, following his relapse of Sunday night. From the best information obtainable, however, it is believed that the attack that caused a hurry call for a New York nurse and probably two nurses, one for day and one for night, was a temporary sickness caused by a sudden change of temperature or an indiscretion in diet which the sick man in his weakened condition was unable to throw off.

Seeking Relatives of Hero.

Toledo, O., Sept. 8.—Coroner Honzler has begun efforts to find relatives of Albin Newell, aged 50, a machinist, who was killed Saturday night while attempting to stop a runaway team.
Letters found in the dead man's possession indicate he was a member of an English family of some wealth dis-inherited in his youth.

Water Famine Feared in Oklahoma.

Chickasha, Okla., Sept. 8.—Unless rain visits this section within the next week, the farmers of Grady county fear a water famine. In portions of the county cattle are being driven miles to the river for water. The stock wells and ponds are all dry.
Water for drinking purposes is also scarce.

Prince Is Stung by a Wasp.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—The Crown Prince William has been stung on the cheek by a wasp and the cheek is greatly swollen and painful. A physician is attending him. He was not able to attend the army maneuvers beginning Tuesday in Wurtemberg.

Rain Will Make Fall Pasture.

Shelburne, Mo., Sept. 8.—A heavy rain, the first since July 25, has been falling in this section the past 24 hours. It will make fall pasture beneath.

NEW CHIEF OF UNIVERSITY

Dean Harry B. Hutchins to Be Acting Successor to President Angell of Michigan.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Harry B. Hutchins, dean of the law department, will be acting president of the University of Michigan until a successor to Dr.
Angell is chosen, which will probably be well along into next year.

This is not the first time Dean Hutchins has been appointed acting president of the university, though the first time it was under different conditions than will obtain now. It

Dean Harry B. Hutchins.

was in 1897-1898, during the absence of Dr. Angell in Turkey, where he represented the United States as minister to the sublime Porte, that Dean Hutchins was first appointed acting president. So well did he discharge his duties, that when, in the minds of the regents, it was advisable to appoint a temporary president, thus giving them a longer time in which to make a selection of a permanent one, there was never any question but that Dean Hutchins should have that position, provided he could be presented upon to accept it.

Dean Hutchins' reputation does not end, by any manner of means, with his being a member of the faculty of Michigan's law department. He is known and recognized throughout the United States as an able lawyer.

Dean Hutchins was graduated from the University of Michigan in the class of '71. After being admitted to the bar he practiced law in Mount Clemens. In 1884 he was appointed Jay professor of law in the university, and three years later was called to Cornell university to aid in organizing the newly-formed law department of that institution. He returned to Michigan in 1896.

Lacking.
The mechanical piano player can hardly boast itself equal to the human performer until it renders music so finely and feelingly as to get itself drowned out by conversation whenever it attempts to entertain company.
